- Together with telecom partner 1GLOBAL, Revolut Mobile delivers fast and reliable coverage in the Netherlands and abroad.

Amsterdam, June 8, 2026 – International digital bank Revolut is launching Revolut Mobile in the Netherlands with immediate effect. The rollout starts now, and the 20GB and Unlimited plans will be available to all of its over 1.5 million customers in the Netherlands moving into the summer. This makes Revolut the first financial player in the Netherlands to offer a full-fledged telecom service. The British fintech aims to disrupt the telecom market by offering exceptional value for money without compromising on speed or flexibility.

Revolut Mobile stands for simplicity, security, transparency, and global utility. For instance, customers manage the entire service within the Revolut app, allowing them to activate a plan in seconds. Without hidden fees like connection or switching costs, they can retain their existing number, receive a new number, or even purchase a memorable VIP number. Together with provider 1GLOBAL, a pioneer in global telecommunications solutions, Revolut Mobile delivers fast and reliable coverage in the Netherlands and abroad.

Fast, Flexible, Transparent, and Premium

Revolut Mobile offers customers a choice between two clear, monthly cancelable plans with unlimited calls and SMS within the Netherlands:

- 20GB: For €9.99 per month, users get 20 GB of data for both domestic use and roaming within the EEA. Once the data limit is reached, the connection stops completely to prevent unexpected out-of-bundle charges.

- Unlimited: For the standard rate of €23.99 per month, customers get unlimited data, calls, and texts within the Netherlands, complemented by unlimited calls within the EEA and a generous EEA data roaming allowance of 40 GB.
 - Promotion: A permanent introductory rate of just €19.99 per month applies to the Unlimited plan until September 14, 2026.

In addition to a competitive price, users get direct access to premium additions within the Revolut app. All Dutch Revolut Mobile plans come with the following benefits:

- All-in-one eSIM: Customers can access both their local plan and international travel benefits on a single eSIM, eliminating the hassle of switching SIM cards. With affordable data add-ons and a complimentary Messaging Pass included as a reliable backup, staying connected abroad is more effortless than ever.
- Messaging Pass: Even outside their regular data bundle abroad, customers have unrestricted access in over 140 countries and territories via low-bandwidth data, ideal for messaging apps.
- Secondary Numbers: Users can manage up to three separate phone numbers simultaneously on a single plan. These numbers, which are call and text-only, are ideal for easily separating work and personal life, or for protecting the primary number from unwanted calls or SMS spam.
- Secure Connection: Every plan includes a free NordVPN subscription to ensure secure and private connections.
- Pay with RevPoints: Revolut's loyalty program integrates seamlessly; customers can use their earned points to (partially) pay for their mobile plan.

A Successful Startup Under the Revolut Umbrella

Revolut Mobile is a perfect example of the New Bets framework, where the new telecom product was launched as an internal startup within the organization. Instead of getting bogged down in slow, corporate decision-making, teams within Revolut are given the autonomy of a disruptor. Combined with the massive resources and existing ecosystem of Revolut, product lines can be built, tested, and scaled at record speed. The result is an entirely new revenue stream that perfectly aligns with the strategy of building a resilient, diverse portfolio of financial and non-financial services to always stay one step ahead of the market. For example, Revolut currently has 11 product lines that each generate over €120 million in annual revenue.

Elyas Sadou, Head of Product Revolut Mobile: "With Revolut Mobile, we are bringing the same disruptive energy to the telecom market that we previously brought to the banking world. We combine top-tier connectivity with the best service, price, and user experience. With this, we prove that mobile telephony can be incredibly simple. This is telecom, completely redesigned for the way we actually live today."

Hakan Koç, Founder and CEO of 1GLOBAL: "The collaboration with Revolut remains one of the most inspiring partnerships in our portfolio, supporting the growth of Revolut Mobile in key markets. Mobile connectivity is a true differentiator for digital champions like Revolut. We are proud to deliver the technology behind Revolut Mobile, enabling Revolut to offer mobile services that are faster to activate, simpler to manage, and more transparent than traditional offerings."
